Made in Oklahoma: Mountain View Meat Company taking Sausage to the Next Level

STILWELL – Having over 40 years of experience in sausage production, Mountain View Meat Company, established in 1973 in Stilwell, is taking a family recipe and reaching stores across the country in states like Florida and Georgia.

Mountain View Meat Company has been in the business for over three generations, perfecting the art of making sausage. They are a family-based company seeking to bring a premier product with a family touch to the shelves of local stores across Oklahoma and other states. They truly believe in the Made in Oklahoma Initiative and use local ingredients in their products.

“We try to create a reputation where people will see our products, see quality and create a tradition of buying,” said Courtney Talbot, Director of Marketing and Branding.

They produce numerous products such as sausages, bacon, bologna, and ham. Their top product and the one that started the company is their famous Hot Links. They produce and ship the product at their facility in Stilwell in addition to operating a store that sells their products.

Mountain View Meat Company has been a part of the Made in Oklahoma program for three years, striving to promote local agribusinesses within the great state of Oklahoma. They can be found in local stores as well as in their store in Stilwell.
